

Remuneration Committee Workshop

Challenges Facing Remuneration Committees

Remuneration Committees are encountering mounting challenges in the design and management of remuneration policies and structures aligned with their business needs.

To enable Remuneration Committee members to meet and address those challenges with confidence, MM&K is restarting its series of one-day working sessions about what makes an effective remuneration committee.

Where and When

Octagon Point, 5 Cheapside, London EC2V 6AA: 7 October 2026 - 10am to 4pm (followed by networking drinks)

Who Should Attend

This workshop is aimed primarily at new and aspiring Remuneration Committee members but would also be suitable for experienced NEDs seeking to refresh their knowledge.

The Programme will include

- The remuneration cycle and what drives it
- The function and responsibilities of a remuneration committee
- Tackling the challenges facing remuneration committees
- Managing investor, proxy adviser and stakeholder relations
- Designing remuneration policy and incentive plans

Benefits

- Insights from experienced and established NEDs
- Learn how remuneration committees have responded to real-world challenges
- Hear the views of experts on executive remuneration and governance
- Connect with peers, including new and aspiring Remuneration Committee Chairs
- Share perspectives openly under Chatham House Rules

Cost

The cost of attendance is £495 (inc. of VAT).

Numbers are limited to give all attendees the opportunity to meet one another and to participate in informed discussions throughout the day.
